

Memories of the Beatles in Liverpool: Intermission – A Place in Time Published by Outskirts Press

Outskirts Press announces the latest highly anticipated autobiography and personal memoir from Canyon City, CO, author Glenda Lee Vollmecke.

Denver, CO, and Canyon City, CO - Outskirts Press, Inc. has published Intermission: A Place in Time by Glenda Lee Vollmecke. The author's most recent book to date is a 6 x 9 paperback (also available as Kindle) in the autobiography and personal memoirs category and is available worldwide on book retailer websites such as Amazon and Barnes & Noble or on her website: <http://alpacasrus.net/book.htm>. The webpage at www.outskirtspress.com/Intermission was launched simultaneously with the book's publication.

This autobiography is filled with typical British humor and occasional suspense, and offers a journey through spellbinding stories, some of historic significance.

Who would have thought that a young girl like Glen, born in the aftermath of WWII, whose family lived on a fixed income, would be present at rock-n-roll's most memorable events when the Beatles took Liverpool and the world by storm? Glen, who at seven years old lost her adored father and adapted to boarders taken in to help with the bills, subsequently endured the selfish antics of her stepfather, who even tried to dispatch her to Scotland at the age of eight by placing her on the wrong train.

Her associations with the Beatles and other Liverpool musicians bring to life that incredible period. The Liverpool lads knew she was there, and during their initial appearances she recalls fond memories of her favourite Beatle, Ringo, who was quite a clown. She shares her life from age six until sixteen.

191 pages in length, Intermission: A Place in Time is being aggressively promoted to appropriate markets with a focus on the autobiography and personal memoirs category. With U.S. wholesale distribution through Ingram and Baker & Taylor, and pervasive online availability through Amazon, Barnes & Noble and elsewhere. Additionally, Intermission can be ordered by retailers or wholesalers for the maximum trade discount price set by the author in quantities of ten or more from the Outskirts Press Direct bookstore at www.outskirtspress.com/bookstore.

ISBN: 9781478712404

Formats: 6 x 9 paperback cream and Kindle

SRP: $12.95

For more information, to order or to contact the author; Call 719-275-0229 email: alpacasrus@q.com or visit <http://alpacasrus.net/book.htm> or www.outskirtspress.com/Intermission.

About the author:

For the past eighteen years, Glen and her husband John have owned and operated a thriving alpaca farm with spectacular views of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains, four miles from the Royal Gorge, near Canon City in Colorado. John (a retired correctional officer) spins knits, and sells his alpaca items, while Glen paints her beloved animals and sculpts her angels and dragons.

About Outskirts Press, Inc.

Outskirts Press, Inc. offers full-service, custom self-publishing and book marketing services for authors seeking a cost-effective, fast, and flexible way to publish and distribute their books worldwide while retaining all their rights and full creative control. Available for authors globally at www.outskirtspress.com and located on the outskirts of Denver, Colorado, Outskirts Press represents the future of book publishing, today.

###

Outskirts Press, Inc., 10940 S. Parker Rd - 515, Parker, Colorado 80134
<http://outskirtspress.com> 1-888-OP-BOOKS